

Death Valley: A Land of Extremes

Hottest, Driest, Lowest: A superlative desert of streaming sand dunes, snow-capped mountains, multicolored rock layers, water-fluted canyons and 3 million acres of wilderness. Home to the Timbisha Shoshone people and to plants and animals unique to the harshest desert, Death Valley has become a cherished National Park, visited by millions from around the world.

Although the Twenty Mule Teams, prospectors with their burros, and lost pioneers represent the extent of human history in Death Valley to most people, it actually started long before and continues today. Native people have been here since at least the end of the last Ice Age. Towns and mining camps have come and gone. Mining companies have moved from harvesting the mineral wealth to developing the valley for tourism.

Your guided tour of the Valley includes the Harmony Borax Works, Ubehebe Crater, Badwater and a docent tour of Scotty's Castle.

A welcome BBQ dinner "Under the Stars" and lunch at Nevada's premier winery complete this "extreme" excursion to one of the world's most unique destinations!
