

A SKY FULL OF STARS

With Lunch

Featuring the New OUE SKYSPACE

Spend an exciting day in downtown Los Angeles at three iconic destinations.

The new OUE Skyspace LA is home to California's tallest open-air observation deck located atop of the US Bank Building. Visitors will experience the California sunshine like never before, perched nearly 1,000 feet above downtown and boasting unmatched 360-degree views from the Pacific Ocean to Hollywood and beyond. The Digital Interactive Level features a variety of elements for a dynamic technology experience including the Digital Topography Wall of Los Angeles highlighting landmarks, neighborhoods, and other points of interest. The Infinity Mirror creates reflections upon reflections, to the Silhouette Wall which uses pixels to create reflective images based on body movement, these exhibits were specifically designed for OUE Skyspace LA for a dynamic experience to enjoy again and again.

TAIX

FRENCH COUNTRY CUISINE
ESTABLISHED 1927

Enjoy a delicious lunch at the historic Taix French Restaurant. Established in 1927, the Taix family still runs and operates this unique Los Angeles institution. Lunch starts with a salad with house vinaigrette, choice of Pot Roast Beef, Filet of Sole, Pasta Monegasque or the famous Roast Chicken, fresh vegetable, rice, sherbet for dessert and coffee or tea.

Griffith Observatory is an icon of Los Angeles, a national leader in public astronomy, a beloved civic gathering place, and one of southern California's most popular attractions. After nearly 67 years of heavy public use, Griffith Observatory closed its doors for its first comprehensive renovation. You will explore the newly expanded exhibit areas, take a cosmic journey in the Samuel Oschin Planetarium, view the latest orientation film in the Leonard Nimoy Event Theatre and enjoy spectacular views spanning from the ocean to the greater Los Angeles area.
